High Altitude Classic Race Loop Directions

1. (0 mi.) From High Altitude, head East on Burro Ave.
2. (0.7 mi.) At .07 miles, take a left on to Mescalero Ave. Continue on Mescalero (go around gate if locked). After passing the dumpster containers go up the right most road for about 10 yards and look closely for the trail on the right.
3. (.36 mi.) Take a right onto the single-track trail. Follow this trail for approx. 1.2 miles (several climbs and descents) until reaching the gate at Pines Campground.
4. (1.6 mi.) Go through the “V” gate into the campground. Head towards the main entrance and look for the trail on the left just past the first campsite. Take this trail through another “V” gate. Follow this trail for approx. .8 miles until coming to the junction of forest road 206C and 568.
5. (2.4 mi.) Take FR 568 (upper flat road to the right) for approx. 1.3 miles. About 1/10 of a mile past the second cattle guard you will see Bailey Canyon to the left. (There is a large meadow just past Bailey on the right that is a good spot to soak in the mountains.)
6. (3.75 mi.) Take a left into Bailey Canyon and enjoy this approx. 1.85 mile downhill.
7. (5.6 mi.) At the bottom of Bailey Canyon, make a left and head up Forest Road 206C for an approx. 1.1 mile climb.
8. (6.7 mi.) After crossing the only cattle guard on 206C take a right onto T-5688 and follow the trail up, over and down for approx. .7 miles until you reach the junction at Osha Trail.
9. (7.4 mi.) At the Osha Trail junction, turn left at the trail. In approx. .1 miles, look for T-568B on the right.
10. (7.5 mi.) Turn right onto T-568B. In approx. .3 miles you will reach an old railroad bed, T568.
11. (7.8 mi.) Turn right onto T-568 and ride approx. .7 miles back into the Village.
12. (8.5) YOU MADE IT!!!! Now go... A. Do another lap... B. Drink a cold one at the Western... C. Buy lots of goodies at High Altitude... D. All of the above.

Come Ride Again in Cloudcroft Soon!
